OR TORRES STRAIT ISLANDER
PERSON LIVING WITH DISABILITY?

HAVE YOU BEEN MISTREATED?

WOULD YOU LIKE TO TELL YOUR STORY
TO THE DISABILITY ROYAL COMMISSION?

We're also here for you if there is someone you care about living with a disability who wants to share their story.

CALL 1800 771 800
FOR FREE LEGAL SUPPORT

Your Story Disability Legal Support is a free national legal service. It gives legal information and advice to people about safely sharing their story with the Royal Commission into Violence, Abuse, Neglect and Exploitation of People with Disability.

Your Story Disability Legal Support is funded by the Australian Government and is independent from the Royal Commission. It is delivered by the National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Legal Services and National Legal Aid*.

Your Story Disability Legal Support is available to people with disability, their families, carers, supporters and advocates.

Call Your Story Disability Legal Support on 1800 77 1800 (9am-5pm AEST Monday to Friday).

Visit their website at www.yourstorydisabilitylegal.org.au

Some of the reasons you might want to contact Your Story Disability Legal Support include:

- You want to use the name of an organisation or person in your story
- You have a confidentiality or non-disclosure agreement that stops you sharing some, or all, of your story
- You are concerned about payback if you share your story
- You are worried that you or someone else will be unsafe, lose access to services or employment, or your rights will be affected
- Your story talks about current or past court matters
- Your story talks about something you did, that you should not have done or think may be illegal

- You are registered to speak at a Royal Commission community forum
- You want support to get ready for a private session with the Royal Commission.

* The community-controlled Aboriginal Legal Services in 7 states and territories and Queensland Indigenous Family Violence Legal Service are all delivering Your Story Disability Legal Support as part of the National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Services. They are run by, and for, Aboriginal communities.

The Legal Aid Commissions in the eight states and territories are all delivering Your Story Disability Legal Support as part of National Legal Aid.
